

Easy lock function via the electronic door fitting

For internal doors, where restricting access is primarily important for organizational reasons, the electronic door fitting is the ideal solution.

The fitting can be combined with any mortise lock with latch function. After access authorization has been checked, the user opens the door via the door handle. Depending on the system, permanent access without access authorization can be made possible by means of a manual or limited time control.

